

LEGISLATIVE ELECTION.

The Returns Are Coming In Very Slowly.

IS PROBABLY DEMOCRATIC.

The Result Is Not Yet Definitely Known.

CACHE COUNTY ROLLS UP A HANDSOME DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY—BOX ELDER COUNTY SAFE—SEARS ELECTED BY A VERY SMALL MAJORITY.

Since the returns announced yesterday morning were received, the Republicans have made slight gains in several precincts in close districts and have probably elected McKay and Clark over Hunter and Stewart, the Democratic candidates. Although the result cannot be announced with certainty until the returns are all in, and the Democratic committee does not concede the defeat of the two candidates named.

The election of Wilson, Democratic candidate for the council in the Sixth district, McCune in the Fifth council district, and Murdock, Democratic candidate for the house in the Fourteenth district, is doubtful. The Democrats claim the election of Hart, Seaman, Adams, Lund, Greenwood and Williams for the county council as reasonably certain, with Stoker, Ivins, Nebeker, Monson, Mull, Tolton, Hubbard, Robertson, Rideout and Peterson for the house.

The prospects are still good for a Democratic majority in the legislature, although it is by no means certain. The election of Sears, Republican, in the Eighth representative district is conceded by Miller, but his majority will be very small.

The following additional returns have been received by The Herald from outside points:

AT KAYSVILLE.

Kaysville, Nov. 8.—The short but energetic campaign in Kaysville closed last evening in a blaze of glory and triumphant enthusiasm. The whole town seemed to be out in the procession and at the Democratic rally afterward. The speakers, Mr. O. H. Peatt and W. A. Taylor, of Salt Lake, and J. L. Lear, of Ogden, each made short, brilliant speeches. Every argument was made decisive and was well clinched and when the meeting adjourned the Democrats felt that good would result from the demonstration. The Democrats have made a strong fight today, and it is believed that victory is ours. Considerable scratching has been done, but not enough to materially effect the result. Since the polls closed this evening, some are claiming that the Republicans have won the re-election, on the city ticket, but Democrats deny it.

The count will require considerable time and the reports cannot be given tonight on account of our having no night telegraph office here now.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Little Puck."

Our little friend, Frank Daniels, with whom we have laughed many times, made his bow at the theatre last night in his old success, "Little Puck."

The stage of the Salt Lake theatre has no more welcome guest than Daniels. When he smiles we smile with him, and when he says, as we have often heard him before, "There's only a few of us left," we roar. One does not fear the other of "Little Puck" or of Daniels.

The critic's task in reviewing the performance is an easy one, or ought to be. He has either to say over the good things he has heretofore said, or to suppose that the reader remembers them from the past; that's all.

There was little new to comment on in the play. The spectacular end of it was a fizzle, but as far as I could see no one cared a jot; it was not missed. All the audience cared for was to have Daniels on the stage. And when he was there they laughed at him, and the longer he staid the louder they laughed. Mr. Daniels has something irresistibly funny about him.

The theatre was well filled. It looked like the old days of big business to glance over the house.

Bessie Sanson, who as graceful as ever, seemed a little pinched in appearance, which detracted just a little from the effect she produced. The support of school girls and boys was up to their usual singing standard. Daniel Baker, as Billy the young hopeful who swears persons with his venerable dad, under influence of "Little Puck," is a capable young man. John Canfield makes the best Jinks Hoodoo Mr. Daniels has ever had in his support.

"Little Puck" will be seen again tonight, this performance closing the engagement.

Wonderland.

This is the regular change day in the programme at this resort, and an entirely new and attractive programme will be presented.

On the bison stage the noted sketch artists, Louise and Harry Ferrel, will appear; also Miss Sadie Dunbar, the danseuse.

In theatorium the stock company will appear in the Spanish melodrama, "Miracles," presenting new scenery and accessories and magnificent and appropriate costumes.

Evanson Events.

Evanson, Wyo., Nov. 8.—We have many curiosities in Evanson. One of them is in the shape of a horse-mule combination. It is a seven weeks old colt, owned by Mr. Harvey Booth, which has the head of a horse and the body of a mule. The mother of the colt is a genuine mule, which was raised by Messrs. Booth & Crocker, on their ranch near this place. The youngster will probably be one of the chief attractions at the Midwinter fair at San Francisco, as the owners are contemplating sending it there.

White Mules, of the firm of Painter & Miles, saloon-keepers, received the sad news this morning, by wire, of the death of his wife at Delaware, Ohio, he left on the noon train for that place. About two weeks ago he received word that his wife had given birth to a nice little girl, and that the mother was getting along nicely, so the news this morning was a sad blow to him.

The Durnford Brothers, stone masons, have gone to Woodruff to lay the foundation for a new meeting-house for the Latter-day Saints.

Mrs. A. E. Bradbury has been quite ill for a few days past.

The Baptist Sunday school gave a concert last Sunday evening, which was attended by fully 400 persons. It was given for the purpose of raising money with which to purchase a carpet for the church. A collection was taken amounting to $26.

Hook and ladder company No. 1 will give a masquerade ball on Thanksgiving eve.

Blackburn, who has been very ill with pneumonia for some time past, is rapidly recovering.

Mrs. Alma McGarry, mother of Mrs. W. H. Moss, died recently at the age of 84. Deceased has resided in Uinta county for the past seventeen years, and was the oldest person in the county.

The Epworth league gave a Halloween party last Tuesday evening, which was enjoyed by a large number of young people.

The fine weather continues, which is a satisfaction to all.
